

Popular Culture in America: Home Learning, Week 6

Week of April 27

This week we'll finishing up our Sports in Society reading assessment, and then we will dive into our individual research projects. These projects give you free-rein to choose any pop culture topic that you would like to investigate!

Please look at OneNote in the Home Learning Week 6 folder each day. Each day has a page with specific instructions and information for that day's work, including videos and resources.

Monday, April 27 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Video: Evidence, analysis, and flow for your final analysis</li><li>2. Peer review match-ups available upon request: email Jim if interested</li><li>3. Optional: schedule a 10-minute, 1-on-1 session with Jim</li></ol>
Tuesday, April 28 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Finish up your final analysis for the reading assessment</li><li>2. Choose the 3 summaries you want to submit</li><li>3. Upload (or copy and paste) all your documents to the "Summative reading assessment" page in your reading assessment folder in OneNote.</li><li>4. Insert all documents as "Printout" (*best) or cut and paste there.</li></ol>
Wednesday, April 29 	Day off! Here's my suggested exploration for today: Check out some cool art at the Museum of Modern Art's collection.
Thursday, April 30	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Overview of research!</li><li>2. Generating ideas for research topics – fun interactive on collaboration space</li><li>3. Write down 2-3 topics from the brainstorm you could imagine researching</li></ol>
Friday, May 1	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Live discussion 2pm: Pop culture research topics and research question development</li></ol>

And the preview for Week 7: we'll continue to work on our research assessments.